We'd like to thank our visitors, vendors, exhibitors, and bands for coming out and enjoying a beautiful weekend with us in downtown Indiana. Too numerous to name here are all the folks who made it happen and the volunteers who kept it going. We also have to gratefully acknowledge Downtown Indiana, its board, and the merchants who let us close three blocks and invite a few thousand of the neighbors over. Thank you to the local businesses who hosted our guests, provided support and services — and to everyone who had a smile, directions to “Jimmy Stewart’s house,” or suggestions for where to grab a bite. You make us proud to call Indiana home.

HELD ANNUALLY THE WEEKEND AFTER LABOR DAY IN DOWNTOWN INDIANA, NAFF celebrates art and culture in the region with free live music, exhibits, demonstrations, workshops, and vendors. The 2017 bill was packed with more than 20 performers ranging from a Locally Made lineup to rising stars and national acts. This year’s educational programming highlighted the region’s lumber heritage and featured a visit by the PA WoodMobile. A photo exhibit on loan from the Lumber Heritage Region was so popular, its stay was extended into the weeks after the festival.

WE’RE DOING IT AGAIN!

Entering into its sixth year as an opportunity to connect with neighbors from around the block and the region...

NAFF is growing as a cultural presence. This past year’s event drew visitors from as far away as Virginia and Canada, all of whom enjoyed the hospitality of our Philadelphia Street district and ‘just right’-sized college town. To get involved, volunteer or talk about partnership opportunities, contact David Janusek at Downtown Indiana (724) 463-6110.
